Momentous Moment	Weather Report	British Empire
This week, we would like you to reenact a nomentous moment from British History. First start by reseaarching different periods n British History and pick one that you lind the most interesting. Use your notes to make a script to use in you renactiment. Make props: axes, sheilds, crown, flags or naybe even some scenery. Maybe you could get other family nembers to be different parts. Finally record your momentous moment or even act it out for your family.	Let's keep using our Spanish skills so we don't go rusty! We would like you to write a weather report for the week ahead in Spanish. You can either make up what you would like the weather to be this week or watch a local weather report to help with your ideas. There is a template below to help you set it put as well as key phrase and vocabulary. Could you role play being a weather person and give you weather report to your family?	In our Geography lessons we would have been looking at the Former British Empire. We would like you to research and find out as much as you can about the countries which used to be in the British Empire. Once you know all the countries can you place them on the map and colour each country in.
